

KIWANIS HEAD DUE SATURDAY TONIGHT IS FROLIC NIGHT

International President Mass Visit to be Marked by Banquet at Great Southern.

The yacht club for Gulfport, the coming visit of International President Mass and the initiation of five new members into Kiwanis furnish a heavy program for the Gulfport Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon meeting yesterday.

The secretary, Cooper J. Darby, had a letter from the Chamber of Commerce, asking co-operation of the Kiwanis club in a clean up and paint campaign that would soon be undertaken in Gulfport under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

John Holloman was named as the Kiwanis member of the committee to be formed from the civic organizations of the city to aid in the campaign.

The attendance prize, donated by Mr. Hawley, was awarded to Ernest Harbo. Out-of-town guests were H. Davis of Hammond, Ind., and Geo. Small of New Orleans.

President Kennedy made an announcement regarding the approaching visit of International President Mass who will be in Gulfport Saturday.

He stated that in addition to the International president, Governor Ivey and Mrs. Ivey would be present, as well as members from Biloxi, Laurel and New Orleans Clubs. A professional vaudeville troupe will put on a 15-minute program.

The initiation of the new members, W. C. Bridges, W. P. Tolson, E. P. Holmes, Wm. Grant and Geo. C. Phenix who are the head of J. L. Taylor who recently initiated the members in a very efficient manner, but the old members of the Kiwanis club as well as the new botter knew the principles and aims of Kiwanian when he had concluded.

Mr. Taylor told how Kiwanian originated and stated that it had grown into more than 3400 clubs and 100,000 members. The principle of Kiwanian is ready to practice that golden rule, Mr. Taylor said, and its aims are to train the business world and to serve our fellow men.

Dr. A. S. Hopkins made a stirring appeal for support for a yacht for Gulfport, telling what yacht clubs had meant to other cities and that on, would mean Gulfport. He told of the estimated cost of a breakwater, basin and yacht club. The canal water and basin he said, would cost about $25,000 and a yacht club $20,000.

A tentative site on the west pier had been selected, but both site and plans were subject to change by the yacht club organization.

Dr. Hopkins called upon H. C. Cox for a few remarks in regard to the proposed club, and Mr. Cox stated that it was like better, by that he meant we were nearer, that nothing was more important than a yacht club.

He said a yacht club will bring us returns to Gulfport.

At the conclusion of Mr. Cox's remarks, Dr. Hopkins after a concluding statement asked for subscriptions to the organization and before the hall was completed $7,100 and soon reached as the beginning of the fund for the erection of this much needed attraction for Gulfport.

FITZPATRICK AND ST. PATRICK

Day Celebrated With Caillavet Street Auction Sale—$87.50 Foot for Property—$50,000 Total Sales Price.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in Biloxi the "Fitzpatrick Way." Hundreds of Const. residents and many from outside were attracted here to attend Fitzpatrick's Caillavet street auction.

The Fitzpatrick organization appreciates and understands the value of printer's ink which was demonstrated through extensive and persistent advertising in the newspapers and by the many St. Patrick's Day signs in Biloxi and the Const.

Harry Fitzpatrick spoke on the opportunities of the Const., preceding the auction sales at the several locations on Biloxi hills. The property sold was at Caillavet and Division streets where he praised the development work being done in Biloxi and on the Const.

He spoke highly of the Branigar Brothers and Gulf Hills, saying that $1,000,000 had been put into the property since its commencement to assemble a fairland. The owners of Miramar and Holmhaven were commended. Bay Terrace and Pin Hills were used to show the faith local people had shown in the Const. Mayor Kennedy, Messrs. Beale, Berger, Braun, Duke, White, and Miss Jessie Smyrna, the latter were praised for their work in building the Const.

"Nothing can stop the growth here except a catastrophe. People of the North are realizing that their lives will be happier and longer if they stop fighting the elements," he said.

He cited paying $1,600 for a acre of ground where the Fitzpatrick office is located, and Caillavet as being one of Biloxi's leading streets and "the Old Spanish Trail."

$50,000 was offered to the man who had not made money on property sold by Fitzpatrick or who would sell it at less than the price he paid for it. The offer was not taken.

The hand concert before and during the auction and gifts of $5 gold pieces were in evidence. 105 feet long on Caillavet by a depth of 42 feet was put on the auction block. It was owned by Dr. Evans and Mrs. Moore. Mrs. Moore's son, L. M. Moore, represented a group of New York buyers bought it for $14,437.50.

If Jaycox of Biloxi paid $1,750 for the adjoining lot, 50 by 50 feet.

Wm. Bryant of Waukesha, Wis., bought the next lot which brought $5,500. The buyers wanted 100 feet front on Caillavet.

L. Hofford bought 50 feet frontage for $2,250.

Floyd Jaycox bid on a 50-foot lot for $2,650 was accepted.

Chas. Harrison, one of Biloxi's oldest men, bought a corner at Chalmette and Holmhaven and had a 110-foot frontage on Post Lenten. He paid $7,480. He paid $10,325 for the opposite lot. He has a frontage of 150 feet. The total of the sales was $24,302.

Mention was made of the auction sale Saturday of Dr. Bailey's place in Ocean Springs.

The affair is to be similar to the carnival given by the Elks—except everything will be free. Many prizes will be given. There will be an entertainment which is expected to overshadow all past events. It will be in the nature of a carnival and will be on Monday following Easter, at the Yacht Club. It will be known as The Post Lenten Jubilee. If a larger hall is needed it will be held at the Pizzati Pavilion.

The lucky circular.

This will be free for Yacht Club members and cash will receive two tickets, the affair being exclusively for club members. The tickets will entitle the holder to participate in all the games.

The entertainment promises to be something worth expectation. The something not increasing the popularity of the club and are being eagerly awaited each month.
