|--|--|---|---|

We've got a doozy for ya! The Texan Verdeen cousins are truly a madcap trio.

Gaynelle is turning 50 and not handling it well AT ALL. Cousin Peaches, a mortuary cosmetologist, wants to throw her a surprise birthday party, but cousin Jimmie is too busy with her new wedding gown boutique for "big-boned" gals – The Wide Bride.

Throw in a half dozen crazy relatives and you have a truly hysterical, side-splitting, Southern-fried farce that just might remind you of some of your own family! Our season opener will be directed by Will Hodges.

A musical based on the hit movie that gets a 24-hour TV marathon every December. Nine-year-old Ralphie wants nothing more for Christmas than an official Red Ryder BB Gun – but everyone just tells him "you'll shoot your eye out!"

Before the big day arrives, he'll have to navigate an infamous leg lamp, the ugliest pink bunny pajamas, and a "triple-dog-dare-ya" to lick a frozen flagpole.

Director Wess Hughes secured the rights for LLT to be one of the first community theatres in the South to present what will be a sell-out family-favorite musical to kick off the holiday season.

Neil Simon, America's favorite comedy writer, capped his long career with the brilliant three-play "Eugene Trilogy" that was basically the story of his own life.

Last year's BRIGHTON BEACH MEMOIRS dealt with Eugene's coming-of-age in 1930s Brooklyn.

Now, we continue the story in the 1940s. Eugene gets drafted into the Army during WWII and heads off to boot camp in the muggy swamps of steamy Mississippi.

Directed by Rick Youngblood, the plays are a continuing story, but this one stands on its own as one of Simon's best.

Here she comes - that famous little redheaded orphan, along with Daddy Warbucks, mean ol' Miss Hannigan and a cast of 100 kids!

We've presented the full stage musical a few times, but this will be our very first production of the Jr. version.

LLT's annual Summer Kids' Camp features a week of rehearsals and workshops under the direction of Rebecca Green. Then, the week ends with exciting performances where these little actors will move us all to laughter and tears as they sing their hearts out!
