Rev. J. C. Burhardt Points Out in Address Benefits Which Have Followed Prohibition Law.

"I am in favor of the 18th amendment and the law that enforces it," Rev. J. C. Burkhardt, pastor of the First Christian church, Gulfportd, declared yesterday morning when spoke on law enforcement with special reference to the said amendment. He had invited the officers of the city and county who have to do with en-forcing this law, and a number of these had accepted his invitation and were present at the meeting. Rev. Burkhardt is quite optimistic about the enforcement of the liquor law, feeling that things are better than this time a year ago and believing that yearly the law is better enforc-

His address could be divided into His address could be divided into three parts, the first dealing with the conditions in the United States that led up to the passage of the 18th amendmen, second, to the serults from its passage, and third, to some of the more prevalent objections to the law. He called attention to some statistics that can be substantiated in the right sources, namely, that there were some sources, namely, that there were some 200,000 saloons, distilleries and breweries in the United States before the passage of the amendmen,t that political corruption resulting from the influence of these liquor dealers was widespread, that the sorrow and suf-fering resulting from the ever present saloon was great. Then the 18th amendment was passed and liquor was outlawed, and when a sloon runs now it does so contrary to law. Much Riloxi, Shreveport, Mobile and New Orleans. ## CONFERENCE NEARING END

Golden Link Day Tomorrow Will Mark Close of Girl Reserves Meet at Gulf Park College

The Girl Reserves in conference at Gulf-Park continued their interesting guest Saturday and Sunday and have begun with renewed zeal this week's program.

Saturday was a day spent happily with others, in thought and discussion in the morning and in association in the afternoon and evening. Many visitors came out during guest hour in the afternoon and enjoyed recreation hour with the conference. Recreation hour consisted of a swimming meet between members of the various Triangles. The questers were first with twenty-three points, and the Searchlight second with seventeen points. Martha Bahin came first with individual score of twenty points. and Frances Howell second with fourteen points. In the evening the conference went o the High school building for the pageant given by the Gulfport Girl Reserves. As the campfire program Nemitz played a great game yesterday and received excellent support on all occasions. Beside holding the Reds down to seven hits he helped to win his own game by smashing out the style of "Hiwaytha" as the tambér the style of "Hiwaytha" as read the day's scroll, which was written in the style of "Hiawatha" as the watchword of the day had been the word Kiyugin, meaning "open the Barney Eaton made a short, but effective, address on Citizenship.

The pageant "Wide Open Windows" was beautiful in thought and in presentation. The Gulfport girls who participated in this program are to be commended highly for the impressive manner in which this beautiful lesson of Girl Reserve privileges and obligation was brought out. The effective costuming, excellent acting, and attractive setting all deserve special mention. To Miss Dickey and her girls the conference is indebted for this beautiful entertainment.

Sunday was Symphony Day, and all hearts were in tune with happiness.

hearts were in tune with happiness, reverence, and service. The greatest note in the symphony of the day was struck during the morning service of worship at eleven o'clock. Miss Ruth Hughey led in the devotional and stir-red the hearts of all to harmony. The music under the direction of Mrs. Middleton added to its note of beautiful
